

Interviewer: "Thinking about your neighborhood - does it feel like a community to you?"

Ivy: "Mh, sometimes and sometimes not. Okay, I'm going to use holidays for example because holidays are when you have cookouts. You have that pocket of people having cookouts, that pocket of people, that pocket of people... and everybody's enjoying themselves in their pocket, but nobody's interacting with each other."